

HOLMES AND CROWD TRAVEL IN EGYPT

Lecturer Takes Hearers On Picturesque Tour Through Pharaoh-Land.

Burton Holmes took one of the largest lecture audiences of the season on an interesting 3,000-year tour through Egypt last night at the Columbia Theatre. There is so much to see in the land of the Pharaohs, so many varied subjects to be studied and such a world of interesting and motley sights to be enthusiastic over that the latter portion of the trip, 450 miles up the Nile, was covered last night in sixty minutes. Although the period of time was short and the trip was hurried, it seemed that nothing was overlooked.

Starting on steamer which crossed the Indian ocean, and going through the Suez canal and Port Said to Alexandria, the tourists were shown that old city, where, in the space of a few minutes, the traveler may go from the modern magnificence of Alexandria of today back into the dusty catacombs and ruins erected fifty centuries ago. From the busy, bustling shops, the attractive hotels, where thousands of sightseers from every corner of the globe can be met at all seasons of the year, the trail led to those monuments which stand today, in spite of their age, as evidences of the cruel power of such famous characters as Rameses, Cheops and that distinguished line of kings.

Modern Egypt, teeming with its hundreds of interesting mosques, kiosks and minarets, was early left behind for the dead cities of long ago. The lecture impressed the hearers with the hold which religion must have had upon the people of the time of the building of the pyramids and of the colossal temples to the gods. A feature of the series of pictures were those taken on the cruise through the city built on the island of Philae, the vast temples of which are submerged by the waters of the Nile.

As a fitting close to the trip were shown pictures of what Egyptologists now believe to be the greatest of all these engineering feats, the rock temples of Rameses, cut in the solid banks of rock and containing the best preserved and what are thought to be the most perfect and largest likenesses of Rameses.

The same lecture will be delivered this afternoon at the Columbia Theater at 4:30 o'clock.

FARRAND TO SPEAK BEFORE SOCIETY

At the annual meeting of the Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, in George Washington University Tuesday evening, Dr. Livingston Farrand, of New York, will deliver an address. The election of officers also will take place and Gen. George M. Sternberg, president, will make a report on the work of the year.

Miss Grace L. Anderson will devote eight months to a campaign that proposes to educate school children as to the evils of tuberculosis and the means of its contraction. Miss Anderson already has given lectures on the subject among the schools and has met sixty-two classes in the Tenth and Eleventh divisions. Facts on the value of fresh air, cleanliness, and proper food are put before the children and their co-operation in the fight asked. The lectures are in behalf of the Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis.

RIVALS "DIVING VENUS"

MISS AMELIA ROSE,
In "King of Cadonia" Company.

HAS BEEN A MODEL FOR MANY ARTISTS

To be able to see a picture or a statue of oneself in almost any city of the United States or Europe, would be an unusual experience for anyone. Miss Amelia Rose, in the "King of Cadonia" company, can visit many large cities, from the Imperial Gardens in Pekin, China, to Canton, Ohio, and find representations of herself.

Miss Rose has been a model for many of the greatest painters, sculptors, and photographers of the present day and stands as one of the four women picked as having a perfect figure.

said to be much more delicately molded. Miss Rose's poses in painting and sculpture circle the globe. One of the most noted is Hubert Vos' "Water Nymph," owned by the Empress of China, and is the only bit of sculpture by a foreigner in the Royal Gardens. Henry Moser has done many ideal heads of her, especially his "Mermaid" of last year. Haskell Coffin's "Poster Girl" and his "Bohemian Girl" are well known. Miss Rose has posed for Louis More, for Mucha, the famous Bohemian artist; for Charles Dana Gibson, Howard Chandler Christy, Harrison Fisher, Frank and J. C. Lyendecker.

A Gold Dust Home Is a Healthy Home. In dirt lurks danger of disease. This truth is being emphasized more and more by the revelations of modern science. Uncleanliness is not only undesirable but positively unwholesome. Most of the ills which the human body suffers are due to germs, and dirt is the favorite lodging and breeding place of these germs. Remove the dirt and grease and grime from the home and you banish the germs.

No more efficient cleansing agent has been discovered than Gold Dust washing powder. Gold Dust cleans everything well. It cuts dirt and grease like magic. In the washing of Kitchen Utensils, scrubbing of floors, cleansing of bath tubs and sinks, in every conceivable cleansing operation, it quickly and completely removes the dirt, and leaves everything it touches clean and sanitary safe.

UNABLE TO LOCATE FORMER POLICEMAN

Seth W. Van Dever Out On Bond, But Must Appear Shortly or Forfeit.

The whereabouts of Seth W. Van Dever, the former Seventh precinct policeman, who was caught in the act of forcibly entering a grocery store while he was supposed to be patrolling his beat one night several weeks ago, and who was locked up on a charge of housebreaking and later released on bond, are still unknown.

When the case was called in court one day last week, Van Dever was not present and his bond of $1,500 was declared forfeited.

The Rev. W. J. Howard, pastor of the Zion Baptist Church, who is the former policeman's bondsman, has been given a reasonable time to produce the prisoner before action is commenced to collect the money. The police will take no further action in the case until the $1,500 is collected.

NEWS FROM ALEXANDRIA

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU,
ALEXANDRIA, VA., NOV. 22.

Charged with opening mail belonging to J. Owen Lynch, a grocer conducting business at the corner of Duke and Henry streets, Charles Williams and William Kelly this morning were held for the action of the United States authorities by Justice Caton in the police court.

According to Mr. Lynch, Williams had been working around the store and was given a key to the postoffice box to get the mail. He got the mail for several weeks. Within the last few days Mr. Lynch has received no letters containing money, and suspecting Williams he confronted him last Saturday and charged him with taking the money out of the letters. Williams, he claims, at first denied opening the letters, but it is claimed, at last confessed and implicated Kelly. Kelly denied any connection with the case.

As soon as the case was turned over to the postal authorities, United States Commissioner E. P. W. Garnett, summoned a postoffice inspector from Washington, who arrived here today, and at once began an investigation. As soon as the inspector completes his case the men will be given a hearing before Commissioner Garnett.

Representatives of the different Sunday schools of Alexandria are today taking a census of the Sunday school children here. The work is being done by ninety-two Sunday school workers who began at two o'clock. The entire census will, it is expected, be completed by four o'clock. A meeting of the enumerators will be held this evening at the Second Presbyterian church when the census will be tabulated.

Judging from the advance sale of tickets the minstrel show to be given by the Lyceum Minstrels at the Lyceum Hall on the evening of Monday, Tuesday, the 23 and 30, will be more than well attended. The show will be under the direction of Tom Trodden, Jr., of Washington.

A meeting of Fitzgerald Council, No. 658, Knights of Columbus, will be held at St. Mary's Hall, in South Royal street Wednesday evening. At this meeting the second degree of the order will be conferred on a class of candidates.

The Alexandrians employed at the steel plant and the navy yard will meet at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, corner of King and Washington streets, this evening, when the committees appointed at the last meeting to get the names of those who will take passage on the boat Edward S. Gamble, after the Bartholdi is withdrawn on December 1, will make their report. A schedule and rate of fare will also be decided upon at this meeting.

Mrs. Martha Fairfax Robertson, mother of Henry F. Robertson, a prominent Alexandrian, died at the home of her son, 182 California avenue, in Washington yesterday. Mrs. Robertson was eighty-four years old. Her funeral will be held tomorrow and interment will be in the family burying ground at Broad Run, Fauquier county, Va.

A meeting of the managers and captains of the different basketball teams in this city will be held at the army tonight, when a basketball league will be organized.

HELD FOR BRUTAL CRIME.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—The brutal beating of George Krappe, an aged fisherman, with an iron bar, and the stabbing to death of Andrew Hell, who attempted to protect Krappe in his lonely hut on the lake front, are crimes charged to Charles Bensfield, who is under arrest. Bensfield wanted to borrow a hatchet.

SNAKE BITE FATAL TO GEORGIA GIRL

AMSTERDAM, Ga., Nov. 22.—While Miss Belle Jones, 15 years old, was gathering roses in the garden of her home here, a rattlesnake, secreted among the flowers, struck her between the ankle and the knee. Five hours later she died in agony. After being bitten she ran to the house dragging the snake with her. The reptile was seven feet long.

Dependable!

You can depend on a Waltham Watch and you can doubly depend on it if you are sure to buy it only of a jeweler. A watch sometimes gets damaged after leaving our factory, but no regular jeweler will sell a watch until it is in perfect order.

N. B.—When buying a Waltham Watch always ask your jeweler for one adjusted to temperature and position.
